It Is Much More Pleasant to Retire, lf We Can, Before Ravages of Age Force Us to a Back Seat. By PRANCES SHAPPER.

By FRANCES SHAFFER.

After Charlotte Bronte had dropped her masculine pen name and stood out in the light of success in her own name and after she had added to her first slowly by writing another story, she named for a while, saying. "I have not accumulated what makes if needful for me to speak again, and, till I do, may God give me grace to be dumh." Fortunately for her, she had spoken to such good purpose that the gold was still pouring in while she was praying for "grace to be dumh." And perhaps with equal good fortune, since her life was not over-happy, she did not live long enough that her liferary strength began to when, for when, the pen was enacthed to the strength of her her the strength of the stren

Woven Name Tapes.

For the methodical housewife woren name tapes are a boen. For two dollars you can have your name woven in twelve ozen little lengths of white tape—the wearing is in red. These twelve dozen tapes would mark much of your household linen for years to come, doubtiess; far, of course, it would not do for table linen. For sheets and pil-low cases, towels of all sorts, and underwear nothing could be nester or more durable. It takes there or four weeks for the manufacturers to fill each order.

National—"The Ghost Breaker.

Suppose that one has just shot an onesency, the last of his line, and fleeing if from pursuit, breaks into a hotel room in which is a Spanish princess who is in need of some strength person to free her anneient castle from its ghost. That is the situation par up to the hero of "The Ghost Breaker," which will be the attraction at the National next week. The play, by Charles Goddard and Paul Dickeey, is the one in which H. E. Warner is repeating his success of "Alias Jimmy Valentine." Associated with him in the production, which is under the direction of Maurice Campbell, manager of Henrictta Crosman, is a company including Frank H. Westerton, Eam J. Burton, Edward Bayes, Charles N. Green, Albert Cowles, Louis Baum, James Anderson, John Sharkey, Walter Dean, Kenneth Lee, Arthur Standish, Allen Prentiss, Martin Goodman, Frank Hilton, Ella Stanwood, Marion Stephenson, and Sara Biala. The play was described as a combination of meledrama, farce, and remance in manife equal quantities, so compounded as to make a tonic of thrills and laughter almost dangerous to any one with a weak heart.

Columbia—"The Master Mind."

Next work at the Columbia Theater will be seen Daniel D. Carter's gripping play, "The Master Mind." with Edmund Freese in the title role. The play is a distinct departure from the modern crook and underword plays that have Rooded the country during the past two seasons.

Mr. Breese gives a portrayal of "The Master Mind," a cunning individual who resorts to extreme in an endeavor to avenge the death of his brother, which he claims to be judicial marker. He attempts to ruin politically the public official who prosecuted the brother. The public efficial, in turn, exerts his influence that the master mind confined in an insane asplum, but is thewarted in his force; Throughout the play there is a love story which, is delignifically refresh-in a new point and accountry of Mr. Herem will be a carf.

At the Belasch Theater next week Messer. Primrose and Dockstader, the reunited veteran minstrel stars, and their combined organizations will be the attraction. After a separation which had existed for nearly ten years, during which time these artists headed their own respective companies, last season they decided to pool their fortunes and to present in theinterpores a big spectacular revival of old-time ministrelay. The success of the indertaking was immediate. Messers. Primrose and Dockstader have surrounded themselves with a company of artists, prominent among whom are Raymond Wylie, the six mi-

Cosmon-Vandeville.

Gosmos—Vandeville.

The Cosmos Theater's leading feature next week will be electric pictures of the world's championship basehall games, in all their details, just as they occur, on the Cosmos' special scoreboard. Arrangements have been perfected whereby the news will be flashed by direct wire from the ball grounds and immediately put into baseball picture from on the scoreboard. Picewice of the first game will be shown Monday afternoon at a o'clock, immediately following the first matines, and continue each day the games are played. A sterling bill of high-class vandeville, in nowice affected by the score of the ball games, will also be provided each afternoon and evening.

Casino—Vandeville.

The Casino next week will feature one of the most beautiful acts of the season, in Nanon's Birds, 100 feathered songsters of beilliant plumage and rare training in bird feats and tricks, with pretty tableoux. The birds are said to come from the Africas jungles and to display the mest wonderful coloring in their plumage. Another feature is promised by Harnes and Robinson, in an original musical comedy sketch. Sheed and Devole are songs in appropriate in songs dances and chatter. Texas Elona, for charactersongs in appropriate costume, and Wilson, Franklin and company in a play-cle called 'Our Honesmon.' The motion pictures will supplement the bill. Wednesday evening at both performances the Casino's Country Store will give away its presents of merchandise

"Little Mary" Pickford, "In the Bishor's Carriage," a photo-play adaptation of Miriam Michelson's novel, at Moore's Garden Theater, to be seen today for the last time, proved a very great attraction to the legion of friends of "Little Mary," and withal a motion picture of unusual merit.

On Friday and Saturday Henry E, Discy, in "Chelms Tible" an original drama of the under world, will be the feature attraction. At all performances the Garden Symphony Orchestra renders automorator missis.
